DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 34-35, 39 and 44 allowed.

Specification

2. The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: In this case the specification is silent as to a pulse with a rate greater than 10Hz and amplitude less than 50mA and a peak power less than 100W. The specification does say that a pulse having a frequency above 100Hz and a amplitude between -30 to 30mA can be used on rabbit hearts (Spec, Page 13, ll. 5-9), but the specification is silent as to the peak power for this instance along with the less than about 50mA current has not been stated to be used with a rate "greater than" 10Hz. There is no support in the specification for the combination of frequency, amplitude and power for use on human hearts. It is suggested to amend the specification to provide antecedent basis in the specification for the language used in the originally filed claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 5-6, 8, 12, 14, 49, 50, 52 and 53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In this case the specification is silent as to a pulse with a rate greater than 10Hz and amplitude less than 50mA and a peak power less than 100W. The specification does say that a pulse having a frequency above 100Hz and a amplitude between -30 to 30mA can be used on rabbit hearts (Spec, Page 13, ll. 5-9) and the originally filed claims state that the combination can be used with a value of "about 50mA" but the specification is silent as to the peak power for this instance and the current being less than 50mA has not been stated to be used with a rate "greater than" 10Hz. There is no support in the specification for the combination of frequency, amplitude and power for use on human hearts.

5. It is suggested to change the language of the claim to "less than about 50 mA" to match the language of originally filed claim 4.
